He has performed routine to moderately complex audits of information systems processes for assigned business units which includes communicating findings to business clients and consulting with business stakeholders in developing action plans to resolve control issues or risks.

Great course. Aseem was an excellent and extremely knowledgeable facilitator. Diverse group of people attending the course, all there for different reasons, which made for interesting discussion and shared learning. And networking opportunities, of course.

- Nicky Roberts

Great course, informed instruction, excellent class interaction.

- Ken Lietzow

Excellent content delivered by highly experienced experts, in their fields. Highly recommended.
